

The Daily Courant.

Thursday July 22. 1747.

From the Paris Gazette, dated July 24.

Naples, June 22.

WE hear by Letters from Corsica the 12th of this Month, that the Portuguese Squadron was arriv'd there, as also the Gallies of Malta, and those of Tuscany. And they expected the Men of War of Malta, upon which is embark'd the Bailly de Bellefontaine, who is to command the Auxiliary Squadrons, as the Pope's Lieutenant-General. The Deputation of this City has held Assemblies, for deliberating upon the Means for finding out a Fund for the free Gift formerly granted to the Emperor for the Swadling-Cloaths of the Arch-Duke; as also for a Subsidy towards the War against the Turks. They consider'd at the same time, upon the Means of furnishing 100000 Crowns, for the Ammunition-Bread of the Troops that are in the Milanese, upon which nothing was concluded. More Recruits are arriv'd from Germany. The Ship St. Leopold has landed in Sardignia the Marquis Rubi, new Viceroy of that Island, and that Ship is expected back with six Tartanes, who are to bring with them some Companies that are there, and which will be incorporated into the Regiment of Marines.

Rome, June 29. On the 24th the Pope gave Audience to the Count de Provana the King of Sicily's Minister, who presented to him, the Count de Gubernatis his Successor, and they shew'd him the Propositions which had been made for amicably terminating the Differences relating to that Monarchy. The 27th the Count de Gallasch Ambassador of the Emperor, who arriv'd the 22d in the Night, with the Countess his Spouse, had a long Audience of the Pope, after which he visit'd the Cardinals Paulucci and Albani. On the 27th a Congregation of Immunity was held, wherein was examin'd a Project of Accommodation for the Affairs of Sicily. And the same Day another Congregation of Cardinals and Prelates was held, to deliberate upon the Measures the Apostolical Chamber should take, for maintaining its Pretensions upon the Kingdoms of Naples and Sicily, in regard that the Investiture not having been granted to either of the Possessors since the Death of Charles II, the Jennett has not been received, nor the Schedule of 4000 Ducats, which were ordinarily presented on the Eve of the Festival of St. Peter. On the 28th, Cardinal del Giudice arriv'd at Civita-Vecchia at Break of Day, where he landed. This Day being the Festival of the Holy Apostles St. Peter and St. Paul, the Pope, accompanied in great Solemnity by the Cardinals, Prelates, and Nobility, went to the Church of the Vatican, where he celebrated Mass pontifically, and after the Gospel he pronounc'd a Homily. According to the Advice come by Sea, the Squadron which the King of Spain sends to the Levant, is not very far from these Coasts.

Venice, July 3. On the 23d of last Month, we received by an English Ship come from the Morea, who touch'd at Corsica, Letters from the Generalissimo, dated the 2d of last Month; which say, that the Fleet departed the 27th of May from Zant, where it had been reinforce'd by some Seamen that were rais'd in the Island, and upon the Arrival of the Auxiliary Squadron, the Generalissimo would go on board the Admiral Gallies. Five Gallies and several Gallions, had been detach'd under the Command of the Sieur Fournier Proveditore of the Army, and were sail'd towards the Mouths of Cattaro. Since which, four Corvettes were gone to Lefina, where they were assembled Troops and several Ships, for some Enterprize, that was not yet declared. There was no certain Advice that the Turkish Fleet was sail'd out of the Dardanel. A French Ship which is come from Constantinople, but has been two Months in her Passage, reports, that at his Departure they were assembling, and would be commanded by Ibrahim Bassa of Egypt: But that they were in Want of Seamen, which they expected from the Islands of the Archipelago. The Sieurs Codognola were admitted into the Body of the Nobility the 27th of last Month. The Sieur J. Battista Nicolossi, Great Chancellor, died the 28th past, and Orders are given for making for him as usual, a magnificent Funeral. The next Day the Great Council chose the Sieur Angelo Zeno to succeed him. A Courier from Vienna has pass'd by Brescia, going to Milan, and 'tis believ'd he carries Orders concerning M. Molines Grand Inquisitor of Spain, who is still kept Prisoner in the Castle.

Hamburgh, July 16. According to the Advice from Schonen, the Count de Welling is put at the head of Affairs relating to Germany, upon the Representation the Count Van-Dernath has made to the King of Sweden, that in the absence of Baron Gortz, no body was so fit for it as that Lord. Which is a Token that the opposite Party are not powerful enough to hinder it; altho' General Ducker has, contrary to the Advice of Count Van-Dernath, receiv'd 120000 Crowns of the King's Money. The Duke of Mecklenburg has insinuated underhand to the States of his Dutchy, that having been the first to dispose the Czar to cause his Troops to depart, he has testified a Disposition to enter into an Accommodation of the Differences between them. The King of Prussia has named Commissaries, who will conduct the Russians thro' his Dominions, and 'tis constantly assur'd that they will march the 20th Instant: The Gallies being already gone from Varnemund (the 14th) with the Guards. By Letters from Sweden we understand, that they are equipping at Carelscoon four Frigates, upon which they put a double Compliment of Seamen, and that they are to go out upon some Expedition under the Command of Colonel Roos. Letters from Dantzick say, that the two Russian Men of War that are there, stop all Ships that by the least Appearance have been at, or are going to Sweden. And will not even let pass the Ships bound for Holland, without a Certificate of the Dutch Consul at Dantzick, that they have not touch'd at any Port of Sweden. The six English and Danish Men of War who have taken in Provisions at that City, will speedily sail to join the Grand Fleet.

From the Paris News Letter.

Paris, July 24. An Express from Rome, dispatched by the Cardinal de la Tremouille for the Court, arrived here two Days ago. 'Tis believ'd it relates to the Constitution, upon which the Pope is willing to explain himself. The same Express brought a Letter for the Cardinal de Noailles. The Czar has left Power with an Agent here, to contract with Artificers of all sorts, to go to exercise their Trades at Petersburg, and teach the Russians, and to invite them to it, offers Gratifications in Hand, and to lend the Stocks they shall want there to carry on their Business, which they shall work out; their Journey thither, and the Transport of their necessary Tools shall be defray'd by the Czar; They are to be exempt from all Taxes or other Burdens of the State, and to enjoy Liberty of Conscience; with many other Advantages. Two hundred are already gone on board, and many others are preparing to go thither.

They write from Genoa the 10th Instant, that the Senate had held a great Council, wherein it was resolv'd to recall Part of the Troops that are in Garisfon in Final, Savona, and other Posts lately replenish'd and fortified, there being no Cause to apprehend any thing from the Troops of the King of Sicily.

From the Scots Courant.

Edinburgh, July 20. Yesterday the Lords of Justiciary pronounced Sentence of Death against Robert Hoy, for the unnatural Crime of Bestiality, and ordained him to be hanged on a Gibbet at the Gallowlie, betwixt this Place and Leith, the 23d Instant.
